I'm Noa Maller, a passionate Product Designer transforming concepts into visually compelling narratives that resonate.

---

June 2022 - Present

Product Designer at
Comets, TLV

At Comets, I'm part of the UX design team for Eco Sphere, our sustainability management platform. I create intuitive interfaces that integrate environmental data into users' workflows. Working with cross-functional teams, I conduct research, design prototypes, and refine UX, making complex sustainability metrics accessible to businesses of all sizes. Feb 2020 - April 2022

Product Designer at
Asellion by Covestro,
AMS

Created new features while enhancing the current ones. Spearheaded the creation and implementation of a design system library within a multicultural team. Collaborated closely with developers and product managers to ensure seamless integration of design solutions.

---

Nov 2018 - Dec 2019

Product Designer at
Ludus, TLV

Led web and mobile app design for Ludus, guiding the project from concept to production. Actively involved in all development stages, collaborating effectively within a multidisciplinary team.

---

Aug 2018 - Oct 2018

Graphic Designer at
WIX, TLV (Intern)

A student position. I edited, stylized and designed web templates. Designed web templates for user implementation, created custom assets, and curated content to match each template's concept.
